

CONTENTS

Preface ..... v

Melissa Boston

Introduction: The Need to Rehumanize Mathematics ..... 1

Rochelle Gutiérrez

PART I Attending to Students' Identities through Learning

1. Toward Indigenous Making and Sharing: Implications for Mathematics Learning ..... 13

Filiberto Barajas-López and Megan Bang

2. Girls STEM Institute: Transforming and Empowering Black Girls in Mathematics through STEM..... 23

Crystal Hill Morton and Demetrice Smith-Mutegi

3. Shades of Blackness: Rehumanizing Mathematics Education through an Understanding of Sub-Saharan African Immigrants ..... 39

Oyemolade Osibodu and Missy D. Cosby

4. We Fear No Number: Humanizing Mathematics Teaching and Learning for Black Girls.....51

Nicole M. Joseph and Norman V. Alston

5. Every Penny Counts: Promoting Community Engagement to Engage Students in Mathematical Modeling..... 63

Jennifer Sub, Lauren Britton, Kristen Burke, Kathleen Matson, Linda Ferguson, Spencer Jamieson, and Padmanabhan Seshaiyer

PART II Professional Development That Embraces Community

6. “We Don’t Think of It in Terms of Math, It’s Just the Way of Life”..... 79

Bev Caswell, Jason Jones, Marjolaine LaPointe, and Tracy Kabatay

7. Mathequity Hours: Fostering Wholeness in a Mathematics Learning Community..... 93

Aris Winger, Michael Young, Idris Stovall, Sarah Sword, Eden Badertscher, Miriam Gates, Una MacDowell, and Al Cuoco

PART III Principles for Teaching and Teacher Identity

8. Centering Students’ Mathematical Agency at Northwest Indian College.....	107
Zachariah Bunton, Cassandra Cook, and Matteo Tamburini
9. “I Can Solve All the Problems”: Latinx Students (Re)Write Their Math Stories.....	121
Melissa Adams
10. ¿Es lo Mismo? Bilingual Children Counting and Making Sense of Numbers....	135
Cristina Valencia Mazzanti and Martha Allexsabt-Snider
11. Listening to and Learning with Black Teachers of Mathematics .....	147
Toya Jones Frank, Deena Khalil, Beyunka Scates, and Symone Odoms
Concluding Thoughts .....	159
Imani Goffney	