

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF
TEACHERS OF MATHEMATICS

2017 NCTM Affiliate Leaders Conference

July 22-24 • Baltimore, MD

Intent to Impact: Addressing Access, Equity, and Advocacy in Your Affiliate

NCTM Affiliates across the country are faced with challenging issues related to mathematics education. Come together with other Affiliate leaders to consider the most urgent work in your setting through the lenses of Access, Equity, and Advocacy. Learn about tools and frameworks to support your work and walk away with an action plan to address your Affiliate-specific issues. This summer's conference will explore a learning model to help you enact your action plan during the 2017–18 school year.

In addition, as a conference participant, you will have opportunities to—

- develop strategies to empower your Affiliate and individuals within your Affiliate to take action for a high-quality mathematics education for each and every learner;
- increase your self-awareness of micromessaging and its impact on your work;
- learn how to minimize micro-inequities and maximize micro-affirmations;
- create an action plan to address an Affiliate-specific issue;
- mobilize the work of your Affiliate through your spheres of influence;
- challenge leaders to be deliberate about Equity, Access, and Advocacy in your Affiliate's structures, practices, and activities;
- explore NCTM resources, including the Advocacy Toolkit;
- learn about the NCTM structure, resources, and initiatives, and participate in discussions with NCTM President Matt Larson, NCTM Staff, and Representatives of the Affiliate Relations Committee; and
- discuss, collaborate, and network with other Affiliate leaders.

AT-A-GLANCE PLANNING SCHEDULE

- Day 1: Evening working reception and opening activities begin at 7:00 p.m.
- Day 2: Full-day program, with lunch provided.
- Day 3: Half-day program, with breakfast provided. Conference ends at noon.
