00:23:14 Jenny Tackett: Great idea I show youcubed videos
00:27:53 Trena Wilkerson: Hello! Forgot to share! Coming from Texas!
00:32:12 Victoria Johnston Boecherer: Will attendees have access to this recording, and if so, where can we access it?
00:32:43 Jayme Lorenz: Yes, the recording will be available tomorrow at nctm.org/online-learning
00:32:55 Victoria Johnston Boecherer: Thank you!
00:43:32 Jenny Tackett: Teachers have created a lot of exploratory in both demos and GeoGebra - can't beat GeoGebra for transformations.
00:44:22 Jenny Tackett: mathpad online is greate for constructions
00:44:28 Jenny Tackett: also easychalk.eu
00:44:48 Jenny Tackett: better than the very easily broken physical compass
00:46:10 Jenny Tackett: great for students to look over at other groups - and get information - online use a word doc that the teacher copies group boards to 00:47:39 Sarah Porcenaluk: That paper is great for teaching multiplication of fractions in elementary as well!
00:48:19 Jenny Tackett: Its fun to graph a transformation from Desmos to an online white board and have students use compass and protractor
00:53:52 Jenny Tackett: I have an online ecard it makes a difference
00:54:19 Jenny Tackett: I put the Bdays on my calendar when I create my student spread sheet
