journey.
00:26:58 Beth Kobett: Hi @Lybrya!
00:27:10 Trena Wilkerson: So sorry Emily.
00:27:14 Catherine Bertrand: so sorry for your loss
00:27:16 Henry Kepner: thanks for this perspective
00:27:54 Galaxy J2 Core: Good morning from Philippines.
00:28:23 Valerie Adams: love the meditation..emancipate the imagination and the change will happen.
00:28:27 Shashidhar Belbase: Very nice motivational start !
00:28:28 Kyndall Brown: Powerful opening!
00:28:54 Beth Kobett: @Kyndall - agreed!
00:29:08 Rita Modrzynski: Yes, Kyndall!
00:29:12 Kyndall Brown: @Beth-Hi!
00:29:29 Linda Koval: Love REECHing!
00:29:30 Maria Zavala: Yes, REECH - what a great term to help us figure out where we are.
00:29:34 VIKAS SAXENA: Greetings from Vikas Saxena, Jaipur,India.
00:31:56 Claudia O'Keefe: My colleagues and I called it "triage" rather than crisis or emergency because we had to constantly make instant decisions about making things better and ignoring the not great 00:32:33 Gricelda Monroy: Class Dojo is great too
00:32:39 Sheila Kirton-Robbins: Maslow before Bloom!
00:32:48 Maria Zavala: I like how Nima is saying that even if you are a beginning teacher, you need to learn the community resources and how to navigate them to connect your students with their needs. This is not often thought of part of mathematics teachers jobs, but it needs to be.
00:32:50 Leeanne Branham: loving this slide
00:32:51 Dr Deborah Smith: Talking Points is great, too.
00:33:12 Nora Tellez: We used ClassDojo. Parents liked how easy it was to use.
00:33:30 Bonnie Basu: If you have families that speak multiple languages, please check out Talking Points. The software will automatically translate to the preferred language of the caretaker.

00:33:47 Beth Kobett: Love this slide and the notion of beloved mathematics classroom community

00:34:00 Dawser Al-Adhami: reflect is great point

00:34:01 Danielle Leger: oooh I love this!

00:34:13 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: Be mindful of how many mssg each family is getting. Coordinate with your teams to avoid over-mssging!

00:34:17 Cindy Bryant: Great slide/great info!

00:34:48 Bonnie Basu: @Stephen - completely agree!

00:35:10 Lybrya Kebreab: Hi Bonnie!

00:35:25 Joseph Prevost: mics off, when we start

00:35:33 Steven Greenstein: Critical/critical questions of math AND the world.

00:35:34 Bonnie Basu: Hi Lybrya!

00:35:37 Meredith Robie: Norm: Confidentiality.

00:35:58 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: make and share mistakes often

00:36:08 Maria Zavala: "No one's humanity is up for debate". I love this.

00:36:32 Natasha Gambarov: Always wonder why with any material that is learned (why does this method work, why is this important)

00:36:33 Cindy Bryant: Please change your chat setting to All panelist and attendees so everyone can see your posts.

00:36:45 Cary Winter: Myself by numbers

00:36:48 Gricelda Monroy: "Mistakes are expected, inspected, and respected"

00:36:54 Emily Kavanagh: Icebreakers are great

00:36:56 Ethan Weker: Icebreaker: What's the most interesting number and why? (Turns into a great first day debate!)

00:37:00 Samuel Hirschman: My MS students love "Memory" style guessing games.

00:37:03 Danielle Bentley: I am changing from using "norms" to using "agreements." I want to ensure I am thinking about antiracist language.

00:37:09 Kyndall Brown: Name Tag Glyph

00:37:12 Catherine Livesay: Write mathematical sentences that describe yourself.

00:37:21 Brian Lawler: Ice breaker: One person shows an object within arms reach. Everyone else has 20 second to go find something that is SIMILAR but not the SAME

00:37:24 Katelyn Holloway: I made that same note for myself, Danielle.

00:37:24 Cindy Earp: Showing examples of math in nature.

00:37:25 Steven Greenstein: classroom communities as concentric circles

00:37:27 Natasha Gambarov: Icebreaker: What is your favorite number and why?

00:37:32 Rosalind Brown: Mistakes Allow Thinking to Happen!! MATH!

00:37:33 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: each sts makes a personalized slide for class deck

00:38:14 Valerie Adams: This is great to do quarterly.

00:38:16 Cary Winter: I ask students to include a "math secret" in their mathography at the beginning of the year.

00:38:18 Cindy Bryant: Please change your chat setting to All panelist and attendees so everyone can see your posts.

00:38:21 Amanda Walker: I've done the mathography! It's always on the beginning of the week list.

00:38:27 Faith Peddie: @Reda, the slides will be available tomorrow at www.nctm.org/100

00:38:57 Rita Modrzynski: Thanks @Faith! I want to check out WOKE Math

00:39:08 Danielle Bentley: @Valerie, YES! I agree, math identity is important to do throughout the entire year!

00:39:10 Natasha Gambarov: The temperature check is a great way to interconnect social-emotional learning with academic areas

00:39:17 Beth Kobett: I call these energy checks! :) and do them every day

00:40:08 Ethan Weker: I love adding temperature checks as a first slide in a Desmos Activity.

00:40:14 Danielle Bentley: I loooooovvvee this presentation!

00:40:24 Nick DiGrispino: like the energy check.

00:40:29 Gurpreet Sahmbi: Very excited for this as social emotional learning in mathematics just got added to our elementary curriculum in Ontario

00:40:56 Michelle Defilippis: Agreed @gurpreet ;)

00:41:09 Gurpreet Sahmbi: Hi, @Michelle!!!!

00:41:11 Alma Miho: Interesting approach

00:41:23 Ramona Hall: Great idea for younger ones!

00:42:04 Natasha Gambarov: I really like the Glad-Sad-Scared-Mad approach! It is a perfect self check-in, while also a perfect opportunity for vocab build-up

00:42:36 Alana Roberts: Great ideas!

00:42:47 Angela Wilson: This is a great tool to use and model for a way for students to show their frustration level too.

00:42:52 Kavonna Bostick: Love these strategies/ideas

00:42:54 Nicole Walden: In my own therapy we were also asked to check in with our Hope Score.

00:42:59 Bonnie Basu: @Ethan- did you start with that at beginning of class? (And hi!)

00:43:02 Samuel Hirschman: I thought everyone was already doing this. Is it not SOP to talk about how brains work and people learn as part of math class?

00:43:04 Dave Hankin: put in chat??

00:43:05 Danielle Bentley: This is so important for kids to know--knowledge is power!

00:43:21 Katelyn Holloway: <http://mindfullifeproject.org>

00:43:30 Nick DiGrispino: love Desmos!

00:43:32 Dave Hankin: Thanks..

00:43:35 Emily Kavanagh: Mathematizing Emotions love it

00:44:23 Ethan Weker: @bonnie - I start the year with a "What's your favorite number" debate. I started using Desmos activities daily, and included check in slides (copied as seen here) for each one, when we went to online learning.

00:44:42 Katelyn Holloway: "Flipping your lid" - <https://heartmindonline.org/resources/daniel-siegel-flipping-your-lid>

00:44:53 Ethan Weker: Bonnie - DM me later, and we can chat if you'd like!

00:44:54 Julia Messner: What are some fun ice breakers to use with high school seniors?

00:45:20 Dave Hankin: Thangs again... Muc easier to bookmark as we go along..

00:45:25 Dave Hankin: much

00:45:57 Librada Aspiras: Can the recording be downloaded?

00:46:11 Nick DiGrispino: I like the red, yellow and green bin idea

00:46:16 Linda Koval: It will be on NCTM tomorrow.

00:46:17 Kyndall Brown: We need to move to mastery grading. Eliminate standardized tests!

00:46:21 Michelle Hall: I love Quizizz.com!

00:46:21 Linda Koval: The recording.

00:46:28 Katelyn Holloway: Decolonize Your Curriculum - https://www.facebook.com/thelitcircle/?ref=py_c

00:46:31 Ethan Weker: Julia - I use "What's the best number?" as a day 1 debate, very easy for everyone to join in, and you start to learn lots about each student based on their reasons for which number is best.

00:46:43 Bonnie Basu: @Ethan - thanks.

00:46:44 Samuel Hirschman: What is the dominant paradigm that these types of activities are a response to? I thought this was how we we're always supposed to teach?

00:46:47 Julia Messner: Thanks Ethan

00:46:47 Christine Tabor: @Michelle, I agree

00:47:18 Katelyn Holloway: I'll have to rewatch—feel like I'm missing some things.

00:47:26 Maria Zavala: I'm curious for those of you who start with a debate, does that possibly undermine the building of a collective, trusting community? I haven't done it so I'm genuinely asking .

00:47:33 Bonnie Basu: I love this statement! Be present with students AND mathematics!

00:47:58 Emily Kavanagh: I love Flipgrid

00:48:50 Lance Brauchla: Being "connected" is my biggest concern for the upcoming year. I already knew the students well last year but not the case with my new "crop"!

00:48:52 Rita Modrzynski: Dr. Love is AMAZING!

00:48:56 Bonnie Basu: Sunil Singh talks about telling stories in our math class.

00:49:08 Danielle Bentley: @Rita--Yes, she is!

00:49:24 Dawser Al-Adhami: It was great

00:49:44 RATI JONEJA: absolutely right

00:50:05 Cindy Bryant: Please change your chat setting to All panelist and attendees so everyone can see your posts.

00:50:14 Emily Kavanagh: Being present is definitely crucial

00:50:20 Shashidhar Belbase: Use of week's days with different humanizing themes is great idea ! Thank you !

00:50:24 harry holloway: lost track of time. got in late

00:50:50 Candice Smith: I became co-advisor of the Multicultural Club at my school this year (it was my first year teaching) but seeing kids from the club in my classes was awesome, I want to have a globalized classroom, but it is a work in progress

00:51:13 Viragni Chand: Love use of different themes for each day of week.

00:51:13 Babette Benken: Some districts are going back face-to-face or hybrid...so, those folks will need to create culture w/masks, distancing and/or shields

00:51:25 Alana Roberts: Google Classroom is a great organization tool
00:51:30 Galaxy J2 Core: Excellent. Tiktok for students works.
00:51:35 Dr Deborah Smith: This is cool!
00:51:44 Bobby Flores: that looked amazing!
00:51:47 Emily Kavanagh: I love Google Classroom
00:51:47 Dave Hankin: link in chat..
00:51:52 harry holloway: missed that slide
00:51:56 Emerson Roman Sanchez: Edulastic is Great!
00:52:00 MIKE GENUEL SALAZAR: Amazing!
00:52:08 harry holloway: tiktok is evil
00:52:09 Gricelda Monroy: Is Edulastic free?
00:52:14 Rita Modrzyński: How much does this cost?
00:52:20 Emerson Roman Sanchez: I used it for my end of year exams
00:52:27 Emerson Roman Sanchez: It is free.
00:52:29 Natasha Gambarov: Edulastic reminds me of GoFormative
00:52:33 Ann Marie VanSickle: There is a free version and a paid version but you get all that for free.
00:52:38 Lisa Aldous: There is a free version and a “pro” version that costs money.
00:52:43 Bonnie Basu: Deltamath is affordable and similar.
00:52:44 Katelyn Holloway: Does anyone know if this can be embedded into Canvas?
00:52:49 Rita Modrzyński: Ohh and I love GOFormative
00:52:52 Ramona Hall: What's wrong with tiktok? Not familiar with it.
00:52:55 Jacqueline Colbourne: Will the links be made available as they are not interactive at the present time.
00:53:14 Nadine Richards-Ramsey: Can Edulastic work with Google Classroom?
00:53:14 Polly Wagner: How do you get to the virtual “museum”
00:53:15 Katelyn Holloway: <https://edulastic.com>
00:53:30 Samuel Hirschman: Tiktok is connected to the Chinese Central Governmentnet, some people are concerned about privacy issues.
00:53:44 Ramona Hall: Oh! Thanks!
00:54:12 Katelyn Holloway: <https://goformative.com>
00:54:18 Alana Roberts: Yes I heard that about tiktok wont use it
00:54:41 Jet Yeung: Love this tool
00:55:03 Jessica Brtva: Classkick does something in the real time seeing student screens as they write, too.
00:55:05 Alana Roberts: Thanks for sharing links to check out!
00:55:07 Justin Klinger: I have used Edulastic. It really very helpful for assessments. You can have many different types of questions.
00:55:09 Cary Winter: What is the cost of goformative?
00:55:11 Akanksha Bajaj: Will these slides be available?
00:55:25 Natasha Gambarov: Go Formative is also free, unless you get the premium version
00:55:31 Natasha Gambarov: @Cary
00:55:37 Danielle Bentley: @Jessica--love Classkick!
00:55:43 Cary Winter: Thank you!!! @Natasha 00:55:54 Rita Modrzyński: Go Formative is $15 a month if you want to do more with it
00:56:28 beth blumberg: Will flip grid webinars be free?

00:56:47 Bonnie Basu: Has anyone used Fluidmath? It's a collaborative space with math learning in mind.

00:57:03 Alana Roberts: Desmos is a great tool too!

00:57:05 Emerson Roman Sanchez: Classkick is amazing too!

00:57:12 Alana Roberts: Desmos.com

00:57:21 Matthew Roberts: @beth. I believe so. it's a Microsoft product and they've been good at providing that 00:57:27 Samuel Hirschman: Desmos is fantastic for teaching transformations of functions.

00:57:35 Elaine Chin: you can edit many pre-made desmos activities to meet your needs.

00:57:35 Justin Klinger: Desmos is great.

00:57:44 RATI JONEJA: how to register this flipgrid Workshop

00:57:53 Julia Messner: Where can I find a graphing calculator online like the hand-held TI-84 for students to use?

00:57:57 Dawser Al-Adhami: I ws equation with functions

00:58:09 Wilma Besin: love desmos for analyzing graphs

00:58:14 RATI JONEJA: geogebra julia

00:58:23 Julia Messner: Thanks Rati

00:58:29 Bonnie Basu: @Julia - have you checked out Desmos?

00:58:32 Jessica Brtva: @Julia,

00:58:35 Samuel Hirschman: Julia -- I've been sending my students to Desmos.

00:58:41 Patricia Daugherty: There is a TI-84 Google app. I had my IT dept add it on to all the laptops that went out to our students.

00:58:43 Jessica Brtva: (That's what I was trying to say, too)

00:58:46 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: graphing calc: <http://wabbitemu.org/>

00:58:50 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: but Desmos is better

00:58:55 Samuel Hirschman: The Ti-emulator app isn't free, I think.

00:59:05 Emily Kavanagh: I love EdPuzzle

00:59:10 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: link above is free and good for phones

00:59:12 Bonnie Basu: @Julia - there is an emulator on Android for the TI. I think it's called WabbitEmu.

00:59:23 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: ^

00:59:25 Julia Messner: Thanks for the help!

00:59:26 Trish Harris: upcoming flipgrid webinars
<http://blog.flipgrid.com/flipgridpd>

00:59:28 Jennifer Henderson: I like they have to answer the question to move on!

00:59:47 Laura Cranmer: LoveEdpuzzle. My biggest concern is the number of different systems that we have to have students create accounts for - (edpuzzle, desmos, deltamath, etc.) Is there a way to streamline this?

00:59:48 Jennifer Henderson: WabbitEmu is for android, it is great!

00:59:59 Danielle Bentley: @Trish--thank you for the link!

01:00:02 Nicole Walden: I love Edpuzzle and all of the options I have with the lesson.

01:00:07 Jayson Sentinellar: This is very useful

01:00:11 Cary Winter: We used Clever to streamline all of the different programs to use.

01:00:12 Samuel Hirschman: @Jennifer --- what's the benefit of forcing students to answer a question? (not letting them skip it)

01:00:12 Candice Smith: EdPuzzle works well with Canvas, I used it this spring

01:00:25 Christina Rudd: edpuzzle links to Google Classroom - I try to use platforms that all integrate with Google Classroom

01:00:32 Rita Modrzynski: @Candice - Good to know, thanks!

01:00:39 Lauren Davenport: It is challenging to see the screen of what is being talked about on the right of my screen.

01:00:48 Nicole Walden: Wakelet is a good place for organization also 01:00:50 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: these are all great tools, but be mindful not to use ALL of them - some sts get overwhelmed with too many tech links. be selective and collab w/your teams!

01:01:00 Dave Hankin: Samuel - at least try - show what you're thinking so we can help the student

01:01:03 Anh Le: Nearpod app has lots of free apps included :-)

01:01:03 Cary Winter: @Laura you can move the chat box

01:01:15 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: this pic is awesome!

01:01:18 Jennifer Henderson: Pick only a couple of platforms, too many is confusing to parents and students.

01:01:21 Shannon Hammond: I completely relate to this picture!

01:01:32 Nadine Richards-Ramsey: I love Nearpod. You can embed Discovery Education videos in it too.

01:01:34 Jason Rice: Awesome way to hold the camera!

01:01:36 Jessica Brtva: @Laura, if you go to "view options", uncheck "side by side mode" and the screen will be bigger

01:01:44 Bonnie Basu: Thank you Nima for saying that!

01:01:50 Nicole Walden: click on lots of options until you ghet thwe screen the way you want it - it's certainly overwhelming

01:03:02 Emerson Roman Sanchez: Check out Pear Deck Google Extension - it works inside of Google Slides. I used it a lot to check for understanding.

01:03:08 Katelyn Holloway: I recommend everything from Rethinking Schools

01:03:26 Emily Kavanagh: Nearpod is great

01:03:31 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: ask your sts what they are thinking about and use those topics - don't assume they want to discuss the "news"

01:06:14 Maria Zavala: Kari Kokka is amazing!

01:06:31 Linda Koval: Agree, Stephen.

01:07:20 Beth Kobett: Agree @Maria!

01:07:23 Jeff Shih:
https://docs.google.com/document/d/1-VW-nhAuFebzq4jJk66y_r4RXe2MMMLKhf_awxj6Qyg/edit?fbclid=IwAR1APeHzUqwWabYsFcOQHpyMdAb63kydxl0-s2kLYGH87ED78Exfnv368SI

01:07:24 Jason Rice: Great point Stephen G! Sometimes, a class can serve as the mental getaway from the news and issues in our society

01:07:26 Nitin Malviya: Nice explanation

01:07:52 Bobby Flores: Where can I get a copy of this webinar? It's a lot to go through and I'd want to unpack it a little slower over the weekend.

01:08:00 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: thanks for the link @Jeff

01:08:11 Chonda Long: A recording of the webinar will be available tomorrow at www.nctm.org/100

01:08:37 Bobby Flores: Thank you Chonda!!! 🍷
01:09:01 Chonda Long: You're welcome!
01:09:01 Alana Roberts: Thank you!
01:09:05 Jeff Shih: @Stephen there is so much amazing work there :)
01:09:13 Stephanie Spano: Thank you!
01:09:23 Maria Zavala: Someone in your class may want to talk about something in the news that others don't. A lot of factors to consider. Whose safety is prioritized? Whose ideas are taken up? We can't do nothing, but we can be responsive, thoughtful, guided by our commitments to humanizing pedagogies.
01:09:24 Dave Hankin: Thanks Jeff for that Kari Kokka link..
01:09:25 Anupama Anand: Thank you!
01:09:28 Teresa Bulanda: Thank you!
01:09:47 Marissa Heitman: Thank you
01:09:53 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: @Maria - Yes!
01:09:54 Samuel Hirschman: @maria -- yes that!
01:10:03 Nadine Richards-Ramsey: Thank you!
01:10:18 Dr Deborah Smith: This is great information.
01:10:21 Jennifer Henderson: This has been amazing! Thank you for all of this information!
01:10:24 Wilma Besin: can we have part 2 of this?
01:10:25 Dave Hankin: Student activism!
01:10:35 Magaly Ortiz: Thanks!
01:10:45 harry holloway: What about teaching math
01:10:45 Valerie Adams: Thank you for such great resources.
01:10:48 Stephen Garschina-Bobrow: wish I could "like" so many of your comments!
01:10:55 Nora Tellez: Thank you for this! Wonderful information.
01:10:55 Leeanne Branham: part 2 = us interacting as we look through all of these amazing resources
01:10:56 Katherine Prammer: Thank you
01:10:59 Mary Callahan: When the slides are shared, can you also list the resources cited in the chat?
01:11:05 Alana Roberts: Great presentation!
01:11:10 Chonda Long: Yes, we will post the resources with the recording.
01:11:12 harry holloway: I feel like I just attended a political rally
01:11:18 Marlene Naquin: thanks
01:11:22 Jason Rice: This has been great, I have gained so much. Thank you.
01:11:24 Ramona Hall: So many resources! Thanks to everyone for sharing links!
01:11:25 Chonda Long: A transcript of the chat will also be posted.
01:11:28 harry holloway: My students resist homework all the time
01:11:34 Susan Papert: Thank you for this today
01:11:39 Rita Modrzynski: Thank you so much - this was wonderful! So many resources and links!
01:11:39 Jennifer Suh: LOVE the self and collective math teacher care!!!THANK YOU for stating this!
01:11:42 Magaly Ortiz: So true! Thanks for the comment.
01:11:46 Chonda Long: The certificate will be emailed tomorrow around 7:00 p.m. ET 01:11:48 Rachel Henighan: thank you all – this was wonderful!

01:11:49 Jeff Shih: i hope this is the right article from dr. kokka:
https://www.researchgate.net/publication/328739344_Healing-Informed_Social_Justice_Mathematics_Promoting_Students'_Sociopolitical_Consciousness_and_Well-Being_in_Mathematics_Class

01:11:53 Dawser Al-Adhami: I loved your collaborative work. Thank you

01:11:56 Polly Wagner: This was great!

01:11:59 Rebecca Keller: Thank you all of you! Great presentation!!

01:12:00 Gricelda Monroy: Thank you all!

01:12:04 MYLA DETECIO: thank you!

01:12:05 Kathlan Latimer: A wealth of great information. I will be re-viewing this recording! Thanks for sharing.

01:12:07 Catherine Livesay: Thank you

01:12:09 Cary Winter: Thank you!!!

01:12:10 Jennifer Henderson: I could take a whole class on this presentation, really well done!

01:12:11 Gloria BrownBrooks: Thank You

01:12:11 Julia Messner: Thank you! This was very interesting.

01:12:12 Alana Roberts: Yes, Thank you all!

01:12:12 Anh Le: Thank you sooooooooooooo much for this super informative session today!!!!!!!!!!

01:12:13 Bonnie Basu: Thank you!

01:12:13 Ashley Brehl: So many helpful resources!!!

01:12:14 Angela Rebol: Thank you!!!

01:12:14 lee hanby: thanks!

01:12:14 Michael Farina: this was awesome. thank you.

01:12:14 Lyubov Presnetsova: Wow! This is a lot to think about! Thank you!!

01:12:15 Linda Koval: Thank you all!

01:12:15 Nick DiGrispino: Thank you for the excellent webinar!

01:12:15 Bishnu Khanal: Thank you all

01:12:19 Debbie Meaney: What a lot to process.

01:12:19 Katherine LeDuc: Thank you everyone! There was so much useful information in the webinar and in the chat.

01:12:20 Haley Fess: Thank you so much! Very informative and inspiring.

01:12:21 Janice Novakowski: A thought provoking presentation - thank you!

01:12:22 Magaly Ortiz: Love your teamwork!

01:12:22 Trena Wilkerson: Thank you Kelsey, Nima, and Mary! Such a reflective, thoughtful presentation. You made it humanizing!

01:12:23 Kathy Felt: This was awesome!

01:12:24 Leny Gaviola: thank you.

01:12:25 Jennifer Hagman: Thank you!

01:12:25 Hema Swaminathan: Thank you!

01:12:25 Kathleen Farry: thanks

01:12:25 Steven Greenstein: Thank you Mary, Nima, and Kesley. This was lovely and outstanding.

01:12:26 Leeanne Branham: bitly again please!!

01:12:26 Susan Danskin: Thank you! So much information to absorb and think about.

01:12:26 Danielle Bentley: This was BEYOND amazing! Thank you for your heart and your resources!

01:12:26 Yong Foster: thank you guys...

01:12:27 Debra Cash: Thank you! Awesome.

01:12:27 TINA LATTIMER: Thank you

01:12:27 Keryn Naso: thank you

01:12:27 Christine Jones: Can you please put the link in the chat?

01:12:28 Abigail Santiago: Outstanding job!

01:12:28 Ashley Brehl: Thank you!

01:12:28 Angela Wilson: Thanks so much for this webinar and the resources and video input was great.

01:12:29 MIKE GENUEL SALAZAR: hi ma'am Myla

01:12:30 Beth Kobett: Beautiful presentation! Thank you!!!

01:12:30 Dave Hankin: Jeff - The link was fine!

01:12:30 Lauren Bursh: Very good. Thanks!

01:12:30 Rachell Scott: Thank you!!

01:12:31 Shannon Hammond: This was such a great hour!

01:12:32 Christina Tully: Thank you for gathering so many great resources to share!!

01:12:32 Payal: Thank you! Excellent presentation.

01:12:33 Derrick Johnson: Thank you!

01:12:33 Henry Vas Nunes: Thank you!

01:12:33 Pamela Liegl: Mary, Kelsey, and Nima, Thanks! Great presentation.

01:12:34 Ana Guerrero: thank you

01:12:34 Gina Kolibab: thank you!

01:12:35 Kyndall Brown: Very Impressive!

01:12:35 Bob McDonald: Thanks so much!!! Wonderful session

01:12:35 Emily Kavanagh: Thanks for an informative presentation

01:12:36 Swapna Mukhopadhyay: Awesome!!! thanks

01:12:36 Jamie Rossi: Thank you

01:12:36 Laura Partridge: Thanks for some great and useful ideas.

01:12:37 Ma. Lorena Aloquina: love the math tools you all shared...thank you and God bless!

01:12:37 Kavonna Bostick: Thank you for such wonderful information.

01:12:37 Librada Aspiras: This webinar is GREAT! The sharing of information is awesome. Thank you!

01:12:37 Kathy Rubendall: Wonderful! Thank you so much!

01:12:37 WARA SABON DOMINIKUS: thanks for all presenters. it is very helpfull

01:12:37 Meredith Robie: Thank you!

01:12:37 Deborah Sekreta: Wonderful presentation

01:12:38 Lisa Cady: Thank you all.

01:12:38 Carol Matsumoto: Thank you for a great presentation

01:12:39 Patricia Daugherty: Thank you all very much.

01:12:39 Ayunda Sri Wahyuningrum: thank you so much!

01:12:39 Michelle Hall: This webinar was by far the most informative session! THANK YOU!

01:12:40 Larry Arnett: Thank you

01:12:40 Valerie Vanderport: wonderful presentation thank you!

01:12:41 Ethan Weker: Thanks so much!
01:12:41 Shari Kaku: Thank you.
01:12:42 Lauren Davenport: This was fabulous, lots of info. I will have to digest it all.
01:12:42 Victoria Campbell: Thank you so much!
