

CHONDA LONG:The webinar will begin at 7:00 p.m. ET

Seth Leavitt:Is that in 4 minutes?

CHONDA LONG:It is!

Seth Leavitt:Thanks. I get confused with Daylight Savings Time.

Kristin Keith>Welcome! Where is everyone from?

Seth Leavitt>Hello. I'm from Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Magen Gray:Owensboro, KY

DeAnn Huinker:Milwaukee, WI

Martha Adams:Waco, Texas

Jeremy Zelkowski:Hoover, AL

Walter Markowitch:Walter Markowitch Pittsford NY

Michelle Russell>Hello. I'm from Florence, AL

Lisa England:Aventura, FL

Chris Hunter:Surrey, BC, Canada

Bob Lochel:hi all, Bob from Hatboro PA here

Michelle Rinehart:West Texas. :) Glad to be here...!

eileen goodspeed:Winnetka, IL

Sarah Murray:Concord, New Hampshire

Jill Cochran:Rome, GA

Ralph Pantozzi:Ralph Pantozzi Summit NJ

John SanGiovanni:westminster md

Raymond Johnson:Boulder, CO

David Barnes:Dave Barnes, Leesburg VA

Ralph Pantozzi:Hi Bob!

Erick Lee:Halifax, Nova Scotia

Bob Lochel:hey Ralph

Steve Weimar:Steve Weimar, Rutledge PA

Jason Slowbe:San Diego

Lydia Oladosu:Lydia Oladosu from North Carolina

David Ebert:Madison WI

Annie Fetter:Annie and Max, Rutledge, PA

Avery Pickford:Good to see some familiar names. @woutgeo saying hi from San Francisco.

Barb Borgwardt:Hi, from Fountain City, WI

Ralph Pantozzi:Hi Annie, Jason, Steve, Avery...

Jackie Murawska:Hello from Chicago, IL

Annie Fetter:Hi, Ralph!

Megan Schmidt:Megan Schmidt Minneapolis, MN @veganmathbeagle

Kevin Dykema:Kevin Dykema, Mattawan, MI

Tina Cardone:@crstn85 Salem, MA

Cheryl Preston:Cheryl Preston San Jose

Steve Weimar:Hi Ralph

Seth Leavitt:Hi Megan.

Delise Andrews:Lincoln, NE

Jason Slowbe:Hi friends - too many to list :)

Megan Schmidt:seth! <3

Donna Gardner:Donna Gardner, Maryland

Jeremy Zelkowski:Hey Megan, David, Steve, and many others!

Steve Weimar:Hello too many to list

Marty Beck:Marty Beck Bettendorf IA

Denise Spangler:Athens, GA

Zachary Champagne:Hi team! Good see everyone here.

Denis Lawton:Tempe AZ

Megan Schmidt:bettendorf, IA! I'm from there!

Karen King:Washington, DC

Tracy Zager:Hi everyone! Sorry I'm late.

Chris Hunter:T-Zags!!!

Tracy Zager::) :)

Megan Schmidt:yes! see, it's catching on!

Ralph Pantozzi:Hi Annie!

Annie Forest:Hi, Annie Forest in Berwyn, IL

Annie Fetter:Yay, Team Annie!

Christine Newell:Hi everyone!

Rusty Anderson:Hello from Grand Rapids Michigan!

Kevin Dykema:Hi Rusty!

Rusty Anderson:Hey Kevin!

Seth Leavitt:Will there be a Q and A at the end of the presentation?

CHONDA LONG:Yes, there will be Q and A

Avery Pickford:We are asked to input questions here and Matt will try to address any q's.

CHONDA LONG:Yes, you can also ask questions as we go along

Avery Pickford:I really appreciated these two statements by NCTM.

Tina Cardone:+1 Avery!

Carl Oliver:!

Bob Lochel:sounds like a great way to make actionable journal ideas more readily available in a timely fashion to members

Angela Napoliello-Ivory:MyNCTM - great idea

Ralph Pantozzi 2:open to non-members - like that

Jason Slowbe:yes!

Jason Slowbe:adding staying power, permanence of best resources from online communities adds value to MTBoS and NCTM

Jackie Murawska:Love the idea of MyNCTM - but will the resources be vetted, or will teachers be able to upload any lesson/task/activity?

Michelle Cirillo:Great questions Jackie!

Michelle Cirillo:Will the current journals be published through the end of 2019? Authors will need to know this timeline.

Tracy Zager:+1 on Jackie's question.

Christine Newell:Michelle, I believe 2020 is the publication date for the new format

Kevin Dykema:Michelle- that is the current thinking, but it isn't set in stone yet. The task force is meeting in November- that is one of the things we'll be discussing Denise Rawding:Love that the journals will be available for all grade levels. Great for coaches who work with multiple grade levels.

Jason Slowbe:Might be redefining "peer review" via online communities, +1 likes, etc

Raymond Johnson:I'm all for "digital only" rather than "digital first."

Ralph Pantozzi 2:.liek that task force here will be talking to us before decisions

Tracy Zager:Also, will it be possible to crosspost to MyNCTM and #MTBoS? or would people have to post twice? I'm just wondering if these two communities will feed each other, or cannibalize each other.

Jackie Murawska:Re-imagined journal: (1) will consolodated journal cost us less money then? (2) will all departments be included, or is that a part of the task force decisions?

Avery Pickford:Super excited about the journal changes. This seems really responsive to the changing landscape.

David Barnes:@Jackie - We will have to be aware of copyright issues as lessons are posted.

Avery Pickford:+1 on digital only, especially if print journals aren't revenue positive.

Kevin Dykema:Jackie-those are decisions to be made yet about departments, etc. Also keep in mind you'll be getting more pages each year than with the current journal

Robert Berry:The task force will address the direction of the new journal.

Carl Oliver: part time positions considered?

Jackie Murawska:@David, Kevin, Robert - thank you. Re: without vetting of online resources, I worry that some resources will not carry the high quality our membership expects from NCTM.

Ralph Pantozzi 2:Math Forum couldn't have been expected to accomplish all that...

David Barnes:@Jackie - We agree. How as a community do we help teachers and teams to develop, use, and work to improve quality resources.

Tracy Zager:I'm surprised the re-evaluation happened two years after the merger started, not two years after the merger was completed and TMF employees were cut loose to work. The amount of time between that completion and the threat of TMF ending was short to realize all these huge goals for it.

Avery Pickford:I fully agree with what Matt is saying about the values of NCTM. I think making this advocacy more in the open will be helpful.

Megan Schmidt:tracy +1

Seth Leavitt:At the beginning of the section about the Math Forum, you stated that the Math Forum was acquired by NCTM. The use of the word "acquired" is very telling to me. It seems to put the Math Forum in the realm of a product that NCTM will offer its members. It is not a product. That perception (TMF as product) of the Math Forum is at the heart of this controversy. In my opinion.

eileen goodspeed:Seth +1

Ralph Pantozzi 2: tracy +1

eileen goodspeed:tracy +1

Carl Oliver:I think the value of virtual work may not have been really been seen because there was a small window of a time to try the different work flow.

Avery Pickford:It seems that part of the "value" of a membership, is the community that comes with this membership. I'd love to hear more about how this community (such as MyNTCM) will be more than another #MTBoS on twitter or Math Education facebook page.

eileen goodspeed:My district has over 400 students involved in the online community through PoWs. You said PoWs will continue. How will that happen with TMF staff?

eileen goodspeed:*without TMF staff?

Ralph Pantozzi 2:Avery +1

Angela Napoliello-Ivory:I would like to see NCTM take a strong lead to improve the quality of the math education of pre-service elementary education majors.

Carl Oliver:sorry about typos, this app is terrible

Raymond Johnson:I generally see it this way: There are many millions more teachers of mathematics not using Twitter than those of us who do. Until they all have an online community to call home, I welcome new venues and do not see them as competing with each other.

Avery Pickford:+1 Raymond eileen goodspeed:will our students continue to get feedback from mathematicians, which empowers them..what does updating mean?

Bob Lochel:+1 Raymond

Angela Napoliello-Ivory:perhaps NCTM could reach out to college math instructors to engage them in conversations on how to teach the pre-service teachers in the Common Core environment

Seth Leavitt:Thank you for responding to my sentiment. However, the Math Forum has been working virtually for about 30 years. They kind of have it down. Why create MyNCTM when that already exists on the Math Forum?

Tracy Zager:Matt, I'd like to hear more about what would happen to the Math Forum services if TMF people stayed and were split up across departments like marketing, membership, social media, etc., as described.

Raymond Johnson:The moving of TMF staff to Reston seems a bit of a red herring. I get the sense that if TMF generated enough revenue to cover its own costs, the Board might have thought differently about where they were based. So how do we fix that problem?

Ralph Pantozzi 2:I do want to know how much of what the Math Forum does will continue...

eileen goodspeed:Raymond +1

Seth Leavitt:Raymond +1

Avery Pickford:Related to the financial challenges, is there a timeline for NCTM becoming revenue neutral/positive?

eileen goodspeed:You said this would be a topic of the October Board meeting...is there any chance of reconsidering TMF decision at that time?

Ralph Pantozzi 2:I do want to know how much of what the Math Forum does will continue...as part of this vision - it's key to the goals you raised, separate from revenue

Carl Oliver:Are there any changes intended for his Reston functions with all of this change for the second century?

Angela Napoliello-Ivory:What can NCTM do to strengthen the education of pre-service elementary teachers?

Jason Slowbe:Maybe thinking about MF in terms of whether members would pay more to keep MF might be helpful? Perhaps not...

eileen goodspeed:Jason =yes! +1

Jeremy Zelkowski:@ Angela: I hear you! This needs to be state level advocacy work to shift state department policies on the requirements

Ralph Pantozzi 2:Oh, that's a tough one Matt - Is conference attendance likely to grow in future? I have a tough time seeing that. Is the board hoping for this?

Tracy Zager:Your answer led me to new questions, Matt. (Always the way!) I'm now wondering about the ED position. How is the ED selected? How can members give input to the ED, or hold the ED accountable?

Angela Napoliello-Ivory:Thanks Jeremy

Zachary Champagne:Good question Tracy. I'm interestd in that as well

Ralph Pantozzi 2:Can we get a forum on all these things that the Board will talk about before the meeting? Not just Twitter

Carl Oliver:+1 Tracey

Jason Slowbe:Matt, credit to you and NCTM for your passion in tackling these issues, and being transparent with members. It's clear that NCTM is listening, and that is very encouraging.

Avery Pickford:Thanks Matt for taking the time! I really appreciate it.

Avery Pickford:+1 Jason

Ralph Pantozzi 2:Let's get more channels open for constructive conversation then...

Jeremy Zelkowski:Angela, email me if you want some good guidance on that. Been much of my work in my state.

eileen goodspeed:Thank you, Matt

Ralph Pantozzi 2:Thank you Matt. Need more... :-)

Ralph Pantozzi 2:Talking

Megan Schmidt:, Matt

Michelle Rinehart:Thank you for this webinar...! Thank you, colleagues, for your questions and insights shared...!

Tracy Zager:Thank you, Matt. Would love to keep talking via any forum.

Jackie Murawska:Thank you, Matt!

Christine Newell:Thank you, Matt!

Erick Lee:Thank you Matt for addresssing these issues and answering questions.

Lisa England:Thank you Matt, lots of food for thought

Marty Beck:Thank you much Matt!

Seth Leavitt:Thank you for this webinar.

Zachary Champagne:Thanks Matt and NCTM team. Helpful for sure.

Denise Spangler:On behalf of the board, thank you for your comments and questios. We are listening and will review them!

Carl Oliver:Thanks Matt

Rusty Anderson:Thanks!

DeAnn Huinker:Thank you everyone for the conversation.

David Ebert:Thanks Matt, and thank you to everyone for being a part of the webinar.